Slayer Of Ohio Co-ed On Stand In Own Defense; Wife Testifies

DOCTOR TELLS LIFE STORY TO CROWDED ROOM

Wife Leaves As Name Of Slain Girl Is Mentioned

MET MISS HIX THREE YEARS AGO

Aged Mother Claims Son Was Always A Good Boy

Courtroom, Columbus, O., Aug. 7.—Dr. James H. Snook, the 49-year-old college professor who is on trial for the murder of Miss Theora Hix, 25-year-old co-ed, took the witness stand in his own defense today. He was calm and self possessed and testified in a clear voice. He was dressed in a gray suit and tie.

Questioned by Defense Attorney Max C. Seyfert, Snook told of his early life. He said he was born in South Lebanon, Ohio, and was graduated from South Lebanon high school in 1899. There were four members in his family.

Snook testified he worked on a farm for a while after he was graduated from high school. Then he went to business college in Cincinnati in 1905. He went to Ohio State university college of veterinary medicine and was graduated in 1908 as a doctor of veterinary medicine. Later he went to Cornell on a fellowship. Then he returned to Ohio State as a professor in veterinary medicine.

Attorney Seyfert went into Snook's career as a teacher in Ohio State. He had the witness explain his various duties as a professor. The courtroom was jammed to the doors as the witness testified. The spectators stood five deep around the walls. Except for the voice of Snook and the attorney and the hum of an electric fan, not a sound could be heard.

Attorney Seyfert asked Snook when he first met Miss Theora Hix. The witness replied about three years ago when she was employed as a part time stenographer in the public office at Ohio State where she was a medical student.

Snook revealed, after he had been on the stand half an hour that a discussion between him and Theora led to an agreement.

Mrs. Helen Snook, wife of the defendant, who had been sitting in the courtroom attired entirely in white, left the room when Miss Hix's name was first mentioned.

Earlier in the day, Mrs. Snook had taken the stand and testified her husband had always been kind to her and that she never had seen him display temper.

The defendant's aged mother, Mrs. Abner Snook, of Lebanon, O., had testified that Snook was a "good boy" all his life.

CITY TO SURVEY NEED FOR STORM SEWER ADDITION

Engineer Holds Water Is Cause of Hardship On Sewage Plant

City Engineer F. S. Barekoff, Solicitor Cecil K. Scott, and the ordinance committee were delegated by city council to conduct further investigation into the storm water situation in the lower sections of the city, at council's meeting last night.

Reports were heard from Councilmen W. U. Filler, Samuel Krauss, and Frank L. Rollins, all agreeing that some action should be taken in the matter immediately due to the tremendous amount of water running into the city's disposal plant for treatment during rainy periods.

Filler recommended the entire matter should be taken into a detailed consideration and estimates made on costs of the project by Barekoff as soon as possible.

The issue concerns sections of lower Broadway and Depot st. where complaints have been received by council that heavy collections of flood waters inundate cellars during periods of rainfall due to the lack of a storm sewer.

The main reason for its seriousness was stressed by the solons as being the matter concerning the sewage plant, Barekoff having explained that due to the great amount of water treated at the plant, the cost of operation is exceeding the appropriation granted annually.

Definite action will probably have been prepared by the time the body meets at its next session, Tuesday, August 20.

Peace Promises Bring End To Tong Uprising

New York, Aug. 7.—The network which binds the Chinatowns of the United States is carrying a peace message today—the On Leong and Hip Sing tongs have made "permanent peace."

It is not the first time "permanent peace" has been made. Five Chinese were slain since Sunday's twilight brought an outbreak of hostilities between the rival organizations. As peace negotiations were going on last night, there was another shooting in Chicago and the victim is expected to die—but that "didn't count," according to the national representatives of the tongs and "guiding" them into the peace pact.

With the firm assurance that the government was ready to raid Chinatowns throughout the country and bring down wholesale deportations, the national representatives were "guided" into signing the treaty this morning.

It was admitted there were a few minor differences to be ironed out at a meeting which will be held today in the Chinese Benevolent association offices.

GRAF ZEPPELIN TO START TRIP AROUND WORLD

All Passengers, Mail To Be Aboard At Ten O'clock Tonight

SEEK NEW MARK FOR OCEAN HOP

Strong Tail Winds Are Predicted For Start Of Voyage

Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 7.—Speed will be the primary objective of the Graf Zeppelin when she points her nose into the eastern skies some time between sundown and midnight tonight.

They have proved the stability and safety of our dirigible—now we are going to prove our speed," an official said.

Dr. Eckener's first concern is to better his previous record of 68 hours for the west to east crossing on the first hop of the world cruise to Friedrichshafen.

And speed will be his concern throughout the globe encircling flight which will unfold the epic romance of mechanism when the ship glides to earth—shortly after September 1, according to schedule.

It was learned today that a new set of spark plugs was the only requirement of the five Maybach engines after the trip to Lakehurst. There was no impairment of power or reliability—overhauling was unnecessary.

All passengers, mail and freight must be aboard before 10 o'clock tonight. Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the craft, ordered.

It was indicated a start would be made as soon after that hour as was deemed advisable. Weather forecasts earlier today revealed prospects of brisk west and northwest headwinds, cloudy skies and showers at the off-set.

GRADE CROSSING ELIMINATION ON STATE PROGRAM

Construction Not Likely This Year, Says State Highway Chief

OVERHEAD BRIDGE SOUTH OF SALEM

State Engineer Prepares Preliminary Plan, But Work Is Delayed

State Highway Director Robert N. Wain has determined to proceed with the elimination of the grade crossing on the Salem-Lisbon rd. just south of Salem, but it is not likely that construction will be started this year.

This is the word received in Salem from J. R. Burkey, chief engineer of bridges representing the state department of highways.

In his letter Burkey says: "A formal hearing on the expediency and necessity of the separation of grades has been held and a finding of the director issued for same."

A preliminary plan has been prepared in our office which was reviewed with Mr. Wain, and he advised that it is agreeable for us to proceed with the project.

"On account of the probability of a disagreement between the railroad companies as to the allocation of cost between the two, it is possible that some delay may result. In all events, the length of time required to develop a project of this sort is such that it is not likely much construction could be accomplished this year."

The proposed elimination, placed on the state program at the urgent request of Salem residents, means the construction of an overhead bridge across the Pennsylvania and Y. & O. R. tracks. Twenty-five percent of the cost is to be paid by the state, 25 percent by the railroad companies and 25 percent by the county.

The county commissioners announced last spring that they had appropriated their share of the cost from the highway funds.

The event for the men will be 18 holes medal play against par under full handicap. McLeay is urging all players to turn out on the two days and he promises other and better tournaments later in the season.

REPORT PLANE STRIKES WIRES

Farmer Claims Undercarriage Of Craft Was Carried Off; Search Reveals Nothing

Dayton, O., Aug. 7.—With daylight today, an investigation was forward to determine the truth of reports that an airplane had crashed into the Miami river, near here, yesterday afternoon, after striking high tension wires strung across the river.

A farmer, who resides near the stream, reported to officials of the Dayton Power and Light Company that three high tension wires had been snapped in two and carried more than 500 feet up the river.

He said that the undercarriage of an airplane had struck the wires and broken them.

A subsequent search failed to reveal any traces of the plane or aviator.

The river is unusually deep at this point.

Cripples Defeat Rotarians For Barnyard Golf Honors

Boys Are Too Good For Men When It Comes To Pitching Horseshoes, But All Have Fun As Rotarians Visit Camp Where 20 Children Are Guests

Rotarians may know how to conduct a camp for crippled children, but when it comes to barnyard golf the youngsters lead the way.

After eating their lunch at the Elks home Tuesday noon, the Rotarians went to the camp northwest of the city where 20 children have been enjoying themselves for three weeks.

Johnny Oleksa was the official greeter and as soon as he had welcomed the men to camp the boys began clamoring for a game of horseshoes. Their challenge having been accepted, Walter L. Strain and Clyde McKee were selected to represent the Rotary club. They did fairly well, until Robert Hiltbrand and Richard Carney began to throw so many rings that the match became one-sided.

George J. Burn and R. S. McCulloch tried their luck against Robert Gibb and Johnny Oleksa, with the same result. The boys were just too good for them.

Rotarians came away feeling that this is the best camp they have conducted for the children. Happy, smiling faces and stronger bodies than just a few weeks ago made the men feel that their efforts had not been in vain.

The camp has been in charge of the Elks home.

FUNDS LACKING IN DEPARTMENT, ENGINEER HOLDS

Supervision Cost Fund Not Available, Claim Of Official

ORDINANCE HAS FIRST READING

Adler Advocates Outside Survey of Proposition; Others Object

The discussion on the Butler water project was opened with greater force than ever before since its appearance as a matter of business before city council, when the body met last night to act upon a resolution placing action on the issue, entirely up to Salem voters at the November election.

New angles in the affair were brought up by Councilman Max Adler, who opposes the project, while old ones were relished thoroughly by Councilmen W. U. Filler, Samuel Krauss, and Frank L. Rollins, together with discussions by City Engineer F. S. Barekoff.

Barekoff threw a surprise into the entire discussion with the announcement that no matter what action is taken on the project, whether it is submitted to the voters and passed, or whether council elects to go ahead with it, he will not consent to build the water plant, due to the lack of funds available in the city engineering department.

The entire job of building the new plant, he explained to the solons, will have to be taken up outside of the city's department.

Holds Finance Inadequate "It is an absolute financial impossibility," he said, "under the city's present ordinances, for my department to build the plant. The hiring of concrete engineers, inspectors, job supervisors, and other necessary expenditures will involve an expense which my department cannot undertake."

He contradicted the general belief pertaining to the 16 percent allowed him on all construction work in the city, explaining that this entire amount is used in payment of salaries of inspectors on street work, and went on record as stating that this amount will never even approach the costs which will be required in the water project. He stated that the general understanding in the city was that this 16 percent was put to his own use, and was an addition to his salary.

Funds for the general construction of the plant would be raised through a bond issue, but money to hire inspectors and other construction experts to assist Barekoff in construction supervision will have to come out of the engineering department, Barekoff stated.

The engineer explained how the 16 was used up in Fifth st. paving, one inspector absorbing 1.2 for his salary while stenographical work used up the remaining 4.6 percent.

The general discussion of the issue was taken up under the head of miscellaneous business, council acting on the resolution during regular order of business, which came early in the session. Following the reading of the resolution by Clerk F. L. Griffin, the body decided to allow it to rest on the one reading, until the next meeting.

Motion Is Withdrawn Councilman Anna Stratton made the motion to have it read the second time, but Filler, chairman of the committee, said: (Continued on Page 5)

WILL NOT RETURN

How little German officialdom fears the restoration of the former Kaiser to the throne was made manifest, last week, when Germany's law for the defense of the republic was passed by which he was held to have been stopped from returning to the fatherland, was permitted to expire. The possibility of his return was considered of so little importance that the greater part of the German press did not even call attention to the law's expiration.

More than this, it has developed since the law became a thing of the past, Tuesday midnight, that the law was passed chiefly for political reasons to calm public feeling in enemy countries and that, as a matter of fact, it could not have been enforced against the former emperor or had he decided to return, no matter how unwelcome he might have been. He was a German citizen, and a German citizen can not be excluded from Germany save through a change in the constitution. He is still a German citizen and under the constitution has the right to return and take up his residence in Germany.

That Wilhelm will do so is out of the question, as a Berlin cable holds. As a matter of fact, it is stated that he hasn't the slightest desire to return as a citizen, and would not even so much as consider returning as emperor, save at the expressed desire of a majority of the people of Germany. He is not one who would be willing to return and be on an equality with the other citizens of a land in which he once was supreme, and from him hope that he may be recalled to the throne is said to have gone.

The former Kaiser, possibly, in pursuit of health, might take up a temporary residence in some milder climate than that of Holland, but there is nothing to indicate such a desire at present, and nothing to indicate that Dorn, the asylum to which he fled, will not be his permanent residence till the end of his days. He may continue the forms and fiction of royalty, but the substance is his no more.

Automobile fatalities in the seventy-eight large cities in which surveys are made annually numbered 7911 for the year ended July 13, compared with 7177 for the same period of the year before, a gain of ten percent. Of course, in destruction of American life, war still has something on pace, but peace is growing mighty potent.

What Others Say

THE MOON ROCKET

Prof. Robert H. Goddard's "moon rocket" is in the headlines once more, as the result of an explosion in one of the test ships.

This device, upon which the Clark university professor has worked for the past 15 years and which has the backing of the Smithsonian Institution, is by no means a fantastic bid for public attention. It embodies a sound scientific principle, which is likely to prove of increasing importance, once the practical difficulties in its application have been overcome. The real object, of course, is not to shoot a rocket to the moon. That has been advanced merely as an outside possibility. It might be done, at an enormous cost. Little would be gained by such a sensational exploit.

But the principle embodied in the rocket, after a tangible amount of research, a projectile equipped with rocketing devices from these regions of the upper atmosphere close to the edge of interplanetary space. These belong to our own planet, but less actually is known about them than about conditions on the face of the moon itself. Some say that they are hot and some say they are cold. There is little agreement on the nature of the forces at work there creating the conditions which make the earth a habitable planet.

Such an exploration is the primary purpose contemplated for the giant sky-rocket. It seems to offer the only practical prospect of obtaining certain information.

But something of even greater importance is involved. The rocket principle is one of the two known methods of propulsion. These are propulsion by pushing against something else and propulsion by pushing against the propelled object itself. The first is illustrated by almost every type of movement known from the wriggling of an earthworm to the flight of an airplane. The second is illustrated by the kickback of a gun.

Experiments with the rocket constitute an effort to solve the practical difficulties involved in making use of this last principle of propulsion—admittedly much more efficient than the first—in actual transportation. It holds vast possibilities for the future. —Washington Star.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, August 8

A day of uncertainty and doubt, with wavering fortunes and disturbed states of mind is foretold by both lunar and mutual aspects of the planets. While there may be transient obstacles to overcome there are some promises of rewards for perseverance and industry.

Also new undertakings have a measure of success, but employment may not satisfy. Friction and perturbation in personal as well as business contracts may arise unless wisdom and coolness rule the mind. Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of conflicts, with obstacles to be surmounted and conditions to be maintained by steady and calm methods. With patience, perseverance and application there is promise for past efforts and for new undertakings. Shun disputes and maintain personal harmony. A child born on this day may be restless, changeable and unsettled, although it may be clever and fond of hard work. It may need to cultivate amiability and harmony in its personal relations.

We learn wisdom from failure much more than from success. —Smiles.

HEALTH'S GLOW FAR OUTSHINES COSMETICS

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

It was stated at a convention a while ago that comparatively more than two billion dollars are spent annually for powder, cold cream, perfumes, lipsticks and other aids of beauty and personal attraction. If it is true it represents a sum of money equal to that spent for automobiles. It is a queer thing, this, that the entire proceeds from the terms of American. It would pay the National debt in a few years.

DR. COPELAND

Eighteen million boxes of cold cream and seven million dollars' worth of hair dye were purchased by our wives and sweethearts. All this material was used to camouflage youth and health. It is a perfectly laudable ambition for a woman to look her best. She isn't to be blamed for this. On the contrary, she is to be commended for her decent sense of self-respect.

I have no objection to cosmetics as such. Most of them are perfectly harmless things. Of course, there are certain hair dyes which are not safe to use. But most creams, powders and rouges are compounded of simple and harmless ingredients. The objection I have to cosmetics is that they are too commonly applied as a substitute for the color and clearness of the skin that health guarantees. Too often they are used to cover up defects which the regular use of soap and water would remove.

Every girl wants red lips, pink cheeks, good teeth, firm muscles, sparkling eyes, hair of lustre, and a skin which is sweet to smell and as a girl and, as she grows older, she never gets over wanting them. When she gets past middle life she weeps if she does not retain them.

The chemists and beauty experts have done wonders. They have played at the disposal of the fair complexion boxes and tubes, jars and pencils, all the paraphernalia to imitate youth and vigor. So much for that!

Simple and well chosen food, plenty of water to drink and for bathing, sunlight and fresh air, exercise and regular habits—these are the things which will cut down the cosmetic bill. There is no color like the color of red blood showing through the transparent skin of perfect health. This color comes from no pot or tube. It is the result of the chemistry of Nature, more perfect than the product of any human chemical, no matter how clever he may be.

But if I were a girl and didn't have what Nature is willing to give, I should contribute my share to the two billions for cosmetics. And the ladies bless their dearhearts—they will buy them and use them.

Cinderella and the Three proud cigarette brands

A Modern Fable

Once upon a time a Mighty Prince set forth to find a perfect cigarette. Being very wise, he netted down his search to the four National favorites. . . that quartette of popular sister brands known as the "20 for 15c" family.

The three elder cigarette brands rushed forward to meet the Prince with all the proud pomp in the world. . . each vying with the other in urging her charms upon him.

"Smoke me!" said the eldest, "I am the class of the field."

"Smoke me!" said the second, "for I am beyond compare."

"Smoke me!" said the third, "all the world acknowledges me to be the best."

Then, from the background, the youngest brand. . . the Cinderella of the family. . . quietly spoke up. "If you please, Sire," she suggested, "why not smoke all four of us. . . and compare us fairly and impartially, letting your taste decide which one of us you like best?"

"Why, that's a common sense idea!" exclaimed His Highness. Whereupon he covered the names of all four brands with paper masks; lit them and smoked them reflectively, with all brand prejudice removed.

One cigarette seemed to capture his fancy, far and beyond the others. "I don't know which cigarette this is," he declared, "but, unquestionably, it is the cigarette for me."

Whereupon he removed the mask and found it to be. . . Well, Cinderella is the "story-book" name but in America today that winning brand is known as OLD GOLD.

MORAL: It is easy to make big claims, but you can't smoke claims. The only sound way to discover the cigarette you like best is to let your taste decide.

WARNS VOTERS

Editor: I wish to compliment that good citizen for the article calling attention to the rotten candidates we have, with the exception of several. Also I wish to compliment the Salem newspaper for publishing so good an article. Professional office seekers who can do little else, are in the majority this time. Surely there is a conscientious, reliable and efficient candidate in the eight. Voters it is your duty to weigh all the evidence and give him your support. Character should form the foundation and ability and honesty. Profit by your past poor judgment.

It seems a shame that organizations supposedly banded together for the good of a city will endorse such material to place the welfare of a good city like ours in their hands.

Republican and Democrat endorsements mean very little judging from the crop at hand.

In finality I would say watch your step. As you make your bed you will have to lay in it.

One candidate has promised us some choice stuff this week. People who live in glass houses should not throw stones. With very few exceptions there will or should be very few stones cast this time.

Efficiency and justice sound good as requirements and realization in office.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Aug. 7.—Sunshades being seen at smart sea shores this summer were never intended to protect fair faces from Old Sol's warm rays for the very simple reason that only tanned and bronzed ones are chic at present.

This delightful little accessory, scarcely bigger than a toy, has been given to Milady to play and dally with in charming manner, as well as to cast delicate lights and shadows over the face.

Most popular are tiny sunshades which the French call "pouets," matching the bathing ensemble beach robe or pyjama. They come in colors and materials to match or harmonize. Others, in cretonne or pongee go with the morning costume. Raffia and straw bring an original exotic note, hand-painted in delicate designs to match a handbag of similar material.

Lace encrusted in silk, much befrilled, frilly chiffon one and ribbons of all colors disposed in petals make very dainty little "pouets" which remind one of those Granny used to carry. Embroidered silk alpaca has charming little frills.

Handles are very important being seen mostly in carved wood to match or contrast with the tissue. Rustic ones for the country parol or seaside sunshade. For the more dressy variety there is ivory, galuchat and horn lovely tones.

SUGAR TARIFF DEBATE TOPIC

Controversy Assuming Status of Political Warfare

Washington, Aug. 7.—The controversy over sugar tariffs assumed the aspects of a political war today when importers, refiners and producers descended on the senate floor to adopt the Smoot shing scale of duties.

While Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, announced he was preparing to sponsor a "bounty plan" as a substitute for the Smoot scale, Rudolph Spreckles, California sugar magnate, came forward with a rival scale. Spreckles was one of the group of refiners, producers and importers opposed to the Smoot scale. He termed it "unfair to Cuba and worthless to the American producer."

The Spreckles scale would spread the tariff on Cuban sugar imports between $1 and $2 per hundred pounds, applied to raw sugar, and ranging as the price of raw sugar rose or fell. The Smoot scale would range from $88 to $240 per hundred pounds, applied to refined sugar, and ranging as the price of refined sugar in New York City rose or fell.

The two scales have one feature in common—Senator Reed Smoot (R) of Utah, said his would stabilize the sugar market at 6 cents a pound wholesale. Spreckles announced his would stabilize it at a similar level. In order to offset Smoot's higher range of tariff rates, Spreckles injected a fixed refiner's margin into his scale.

Liquor Complaints

Columbus, Aug. 7.—Many complaints as to the alleged laxity of prohibition enforcement and the reported prevalence of bootlegging in Preble county have been received by the state prohibition department, according to an announcement which was made here today by Director R. R. Beetham.

Body Found

Detroit, Aug. 7.—The body of Richard Sandlands, 30, Special prohibition agent, who was drowned last Friday night, presumably when he fell from a boat while struggling with a suspected run-runner, was recovered from the Detroit river today.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

—By Wanda Barton

The charming little daughter of my week-end hostess dashed into my room a few snaphagons and ferns clutched in one fist, and a chunky squat bowl grasped in her other hand. She set them both down on the bedside table and then, with her delf and chubby fingers proceeded to arrange the blooms. It was a delight to watch the child—apparently sticking ferns and flowers in carelessly, yet the result was so attractive that plainly, there was no other way in which the flowers could be arranged. It was perfect.

Many persons have this gift. With no special thought or effort, they take a few leaves and flowers, scatter them in bowls and vases, and produce artistic groupings with a sure, swift instinct. But those who lack the gift can obtain almost as good results by following a few of the rules.

First and foremost—flower containers should be simple. It is extremely difficult to make harmonious groupings of flowers in heavily ornamented bowls or vases, even though these objects may be lovely in themselves. Delicate flowers—hyacinths, roses, tulips—are lovely in jars of glass. Sturdy thick-stemmed varieties like callas or chrysanthemums blend well with substantial jars of pottery, pewter, or copper. Shallow bowls are for pansies, nasturtiums, forget-me-nots.

When flowers match container, a lovely effect of growth is conveyed. This is easy enough if few of a kind are bunched together. Too many kinds and colors make arrangement difficult for the amateur. By sticking to one or at most two colors that harmonize with a bowl or vase the result is sure to be lovely.

Above all, don't crowd too many flowers in one container. One of the most beautiful exhibits at a recent flower show was a single example of the new Talsman rose, its pink and gold blend emphasized by contrast with the green glass vase, crystal clear.

Popularity.. begins with a Clear Skin

IT'S the person with a clear, smooth, lovely complexion that usually wins.

To be sure, not much is said openly about skin eruptions, but secretly they influence many important affairs. Personal likes and dislikes are quickly formed.

Everybody wants to be attractive. It is a just and natural ambition. A clear skin makes everyone more attractive.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils, eczema and other skin eruptions as being an indication that the body's power of resistance is low—that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

The sure way to remedy this condition is to restore the red-blood-cells to normal.

HUSBAND'S PLEA ENDS IN DEATH

Kills Woman Refusing To Return To Him; Shoots Self

Newark, O., Aug. 7.—An attempt at reconciliation of an estranged young couple, the parents of three small children, today had ended in the death of the wife and husband, who had been separated for some time.

Charles Everingham, 39, a gas worker, who had been separated from his wife for the past two weeks, went to her home at 10:30 a.m. and pleaded with her to come back to him.

The plea failed to thrill her, and the woman, crying, ran from the home.

As she reached the yard, Everingham whipped out a gun and fired a bullet into the back of the head of the woman, who had married and who was the mother of his three children.

Then he turned the gun upon himself and fired a bullet into his own chest. He was rushed to a hospital. Physicians there said today that he would recover. A police guard surrounds his cot.

His wife, Elizabeth, was only 22 years of age.

Police have not yet decided what charges they will file against the husband.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 7.—Burl Adams, negro farmer, died recently at Fickville, near here, at the age of 107 years. He was said by his numerous descendants, living in the vicinity, to have been born in Kentucky in 1822, and was formerly the slave of a family there named Davis.

Burl is survived by six grandchildren, 49 grand children, 83 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren. His wife died 30 years ago and Burl never remarried, living with his mother, who died 15 years later. None of the progeny of Burl would attempt to estimate the age of "Gramma." The old negro was very religious.

Mullins Drops Billiards From City League Lead With Defeat

BOXING COMMISSION ISSUES ULTIMATUM IN SCHMELING DEBATE

Sensational Mushball Dual Results In Win For Body-Makers

Colonials Drop Back To Second Place In League Through 3-2 Setback In Eight Innings; Kiwanis Club Defeats Furnace, 8-5

Mullins continued in the city mushball league as one of the main contenders to the championship honors, handing one of the former leaders, the Colonial Billiards, in a surprising struggle at Centennial park last night, by a 3-2 score.

The body-makers were forced into an extra inning before they were able to come over the extra run against the Colonials, who were weakened by the absence of several stars, and who were forced to switch around their lineup sending Mike Sartick to the mound and his brother Pete to the catching post.

Sartick hurled fine ball through out, but was given poor support in pinches, two errors accounting for as many runs.

Gordon Amtsberg, afforded sensational support, held the upper hand in mulling throughout the struggle, and was touched for only four hits, while Mullins garnered five off Sartick.

The game started with the Billiards hopping on Amtsberg for three of their total bingles, to score the first marker of the contest. Aided by an error by Borton, the Mullins tied it up in the fourth, and then went ahead in the sixth, and then went ahead in the sixth, and then went ahead in the sixth.

Morris tied to Borton, in the seventh, but Cecil Scullion slammed out a single to make things look better for Mullins. Myers struck out, but with two men out, Borton booted Fitzpatrick's grounder Scullion crossing the plate with the winning marker.

The Kiwanis club threw another surprise into the league when it unexpectedly won its second game of the half, defeating the Electric Furnace in a well-played affair, by an 8-5 score. Summaries follow:

The largest crowd of fistie followers to have attended a battle in years, in eastern Ohio, is expected to jam Palermo bowl, in Sebring, to capacity. Thursday night, when Frankie Wine, Joe Basco's famous Butte (Mont.) assassin, meets Art Malay, Chicago cauliflower artist, in the ten-round final go of an all-star card.

Wine, still raging from his previous meeting with Malay, in which the Chicagoan was awarded decision, after ten rounds of sensational milling, is in great form, while Malay also in the proverbial pink, rounding out his training in Sebring and Alliance, having arrived in Sebring, yesterday morning.

Wine, Yesterday Winner
That Wine handed Malay the worst of the deal when the two met some time ago in Sebring, there is no doubt, the decision being greeted with great unpopularity. The one knockdown of the battle, in the second round, when Wine was floored for a count of eight, seemed to have influenced the two judges voting in favor of Malay.

George W. Dunn, Salem, one of the three judges of the bout, was the only judge to vote in favor of Wine.

The battle itself, however, was one of the greatest ever held in the district, and is certain to pack the bowl.

Tommy Chapelow, Sebring showmaster, battles Harry Devore, of Huntington, W. Va., in the six-round semi-final. Sailor Lee, Sebring, meets Jackie Taylor, Akron, in the main six-round prelim, while Kid Holt, Sebring, clashes with Junnie Burns, Akron, in the lidlifter.

The show is arranged by James Palermo, Sebring matchmaker.

Irish Fliers Plan To Speed U. S. Mail
London, Aug. 7.—Colonel Charles Russell, former chief of the Irish Free State Air Corps, plans to make a trial flight from Galway to London carrying urgent American mail in a fast 500 h. p. two-seater biplane.

His experience is intended to test the speed with which mail arriving by steamship at Galway from New York—Galway is shortly to be the European terminus of a new Irish-American ocean service—can be transported to London for delivery in England. Russell will ascend from Orammore aerodrome, near Galway, within a few minutes after the mail tender has landed at Galway docks.

Should the test be successful it is intended to carry mail regularly between Galway and London by a service of high-speed aeroplanes. Each machine will be a two-seater, and arrangements will be made to carry one passenger in addition to about a half a ton of mail.

Colonel Russell foretells the imminent development of direct air routes across Ireland linking Galway and Cork with Dublin where the fine Baldonnel aerodrome will be the Irish terminus of other lines across the Irish sea to English and Continental airports.

Yanks Invade Mack Stadium For 3 Games

Yankees Inspired by Two Homeruns Clouted By Babe In Comeback

BY HENRY MOLEMORE

New York, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Just how much justification there is in Mr. Miller Huggins' belief that his Yankees are far from being out of the American League race will be shown today when the Yankee meet the flying Athletics in two games at Philadelphia.

The Yanks are 11½ games back of the leaders. With this fact staring him in the face, Mr. Huggins, optimist though he is, must admit that his club needs nothing so badly as to win both games today and the single affair tomorrow, if they are to remain as contenders. Should they take only two out of three, some 16½ games will remain to be picked up in less than two months—a thing that isn't being done in this day and time.

Ruth Swats Pair
The Yanks go into the series, encouraged by the fact that the biggest gun in their artillery—Babe Ruth—is again his swatting self. For yesterday the Babe slammed out two homers in the second game of the doubleheader with Washington and thereby took the lead in the American section of the home run race with 27 Trammie Gehrig and rival Jimmy Foxx trail with 26.

Ruth's homers aided no little in giving the Yanks an 8 to 0 win and an even break for the day, as the Senators took the opener 13 to 9. The Athletics, aided by Foxx's 25th and 26th home runs whipped St. Louis in their second game 11 to 3 after dropping the first 8 to 3.

Indians In Third Place

Cleveland whipped Detroit 6 to 5 in the only other game scheduled in the American to move into a third place tie with St. Louis.

John McGraw, unwilling to concede the Cubs the National flag drove his club to a listless 5 to 2 victory over the second place Pirates, and in doing so picked up a full game on the Cubs who finally yielded to the Robins, 5 to 4. Brooklyn scored three times in the eighth to take the honors.

Just how much Chicago goes in for baseball was shown by the 30,000 customers who stormed Wrigley field to view the proceedings.

Rain at St. Louis prevented Grover Cleveland Alexander from attempting to curb the Braves and thus set a new National League record for games won.

Cincinnati and Philadelphia enjoyed a day of rest.

Told To Drop Heavy Fight

Rules Body states German Must Fulfill Contract To Meet Phil Scott

FUGAZY INTERESTS BENEFIT BY DECREE

William T. Farley Caught In Tangle In Efforts To Sell "Rights"

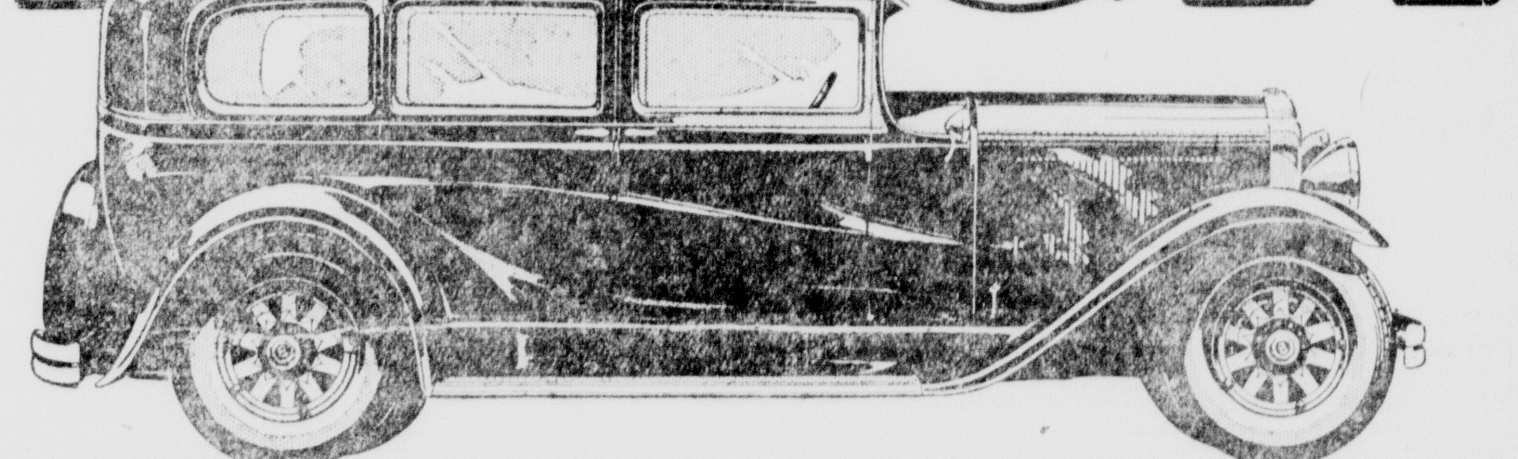

BY DAVID J. WALSH

New York, Aug. 7.—The Madison Square Garden Corporation was placed in a position today where it either must take its Schmeling-Sharkey fight out of the state to Detroit or abandon the affair all together.

This much was determined at a meeting of the New York Boxing Commission when William F. Carey of the Garden forces, was summoned on the carpet and informed for the last time that no compromise was possible and that, therefore, Max Schmeling must fulfill his contract with the Fugazy interests, calling for a bout with Phil Scott, before he was declared to have been told in detail what would happen to him if he placed the Schmeling-Sharkey fight elsewhere in defiance of the commission.

Chairman James A. Farley added that Carey promised that he would not negotiate further with Schmeling but that he might dispose of his "property rights" in the fighter to another promoter. He then was informed, according to Farley, that this would constitute a violation of the rules forbidding a licensed promoter to do business of any kind with a fighter who is suspended in this state.

SALEM TOOL CO. NOTED IN U. S. FOR PRODUCTS

Diversification Features
Output of Plant;
Employs 29

Throughout the United States, the name of the city of Salem is carried, through the production of the well known line of products, handled and manufactured by the Salem Tool Company.

Known as one of the city's most stable industries, the tool company has been established here for 28 years, being organized in Leetonia, in 1901.

Miners' supplies, butchers' equipment, plant-food distributors, and various other products are manufactured at the small plant, which employs 29 persons, and now is reported progressing successfully.

The plant-food distributor, used for golf courses, lawns, and garden service, is one of the newest products turned out. It is not the plant's principal product, but plays an important part in its program of production, being especially designed for hard, continuous service on lawns and gardens of large estates, suburban properties, golf courses, country club grounds, parks, cemeteries, and schools.

Butchers' Tools

The butchers' tools were formerly the product of the Silver Manufacturing company, also located in Salem. At this company's dissolution, the line was purchased by the Salem Tool company. All of the former company's equipment for manufacture of the tools, as well as the skilled labor is retained by the Salem Tool company.

The mining tools are probably the company's most interesting item, a trip through the plant reveals remarkable processes, by which there is turned out, from the raw product, a finished tool of the highest type. The Salem company is noted for its manufacture of tools of better quality, and states:

"Our experience with cheap tools in mining has shown that a miner should buy only the better grade tools in order to do his work well. From this experience we use only

ASK HER

When the puzzled young man asks: "What's the latest in candies?" the clerk behind the counter of Hendrick's candy shop, Lincoln ave., knows there's a woman in the case. And she also knows that there are no candy "styles", but only preferences.

Every girl to her own taste is the answer to the clerk's question. If the ladies of the screen and stage, who set the fashion in so many other matters, are typical of their sex in the matter of candy.

Answering a recent inquiry as to the best workmanship and material in all tools:

The same slogan applies to the entire plant. Breasts augers, hand-billy drills, coal wedges, mining caps, squibs, copper and steel tapping tools, puncher picks, various types of drills, are manufactured under this plan, and have won for the plant much recognition.

CAR TROUBLES TRACED DOWN

Salem Automotive Mechanics Tip
Drivers Off On Origination Of Automobile Troubles

When an automobile lacks its usual snap and get-away, check for the following points, say H. Stallsmith and L. Ingledue, managers of the Salem Storage & Battery Co., located in the rear of Burns' hardware.

Mandrel gasket leaks.
Improved valve clearance.
Faulty carburetor adjustment.
High or low fuel level.
Leaks past piston rings.
Pooled or improperly gapped spark plugs.
Worn or improperly spaced breaker points.

Stallsmith and Ingledue are expert automotive mechanics and electricians, and can locate bothersome troubles in a machine in short order. They handle complete lines of Vesta batteries and Stromberg carburetors.

Salem Optometrist Stresses Care Of 'Discolored' Optic

Most important of the human body is proper care of one's eyes, states C. V. Smith, Salem optometrist, 122 Main st.

"The eye is the most delicate section of a person," Smith stated. "Nothing is more important than the most diligent care, proper reading, and expert examination at specific intervals."

"Even in the case of the proverbial black eye," utmost care must be taken. Too many regard such an occurrence as a mishap that will disappear in time, but a discolored optic may lead to many eye ailments," he adds.

Explains "Black Eye"
"The small blood vessels of the lids in the eye and the area immediately surrounding, caught between the hard object which strikes the eye, and the bony parts behind the lid, are broken. Blood escapes from these broken parts into softer tissue surrounding them, forming the 'black-and-blue' pigment."

"A black eye" therefore is worthy of the most serious consideration," stated the Salem optometrist.

He explains that the scientific name for the discolored condition is "ecchymosis of the lids," which, throughout the optical world, is regarded as something more serious than a conductor to colloquial humor.

Smith is one of Salem's veteran eye specialists.

MOVIES

"LAST OF MRS. CHEYNEY"

Norma Shearer in the role of the aristocratic, sophisticated and thoroughly charming lady crook, a role made famous on the New York stage by Ina Claire. Brilliant, beautiful and fascinating is at the State tonight for final showing. Miss Shearer makes "Mrs. Cheyney" virtually a masterpiece in her category of superb interpretations, even excelling her splendid characterization as the murder defendant in the Bayard Veiller drama.

Basil Rathbone, makes a happy debut on the talking screen as Lord Dilling, the handsome philanthropist who exposes Mrs. Cheyney, and later makes amends by losing his heart and marrying her.

George Barrard, already familiar of face and voice to screen fans, is seen—and heard—as Charles, the suave butler-burglar.

In fact, the entire cast may well be proud of their work in this difficult picture, for in no sense can it be termed merely a talking motion picture. It is a motion picture background for the clearest dialogue penned in many seasons.

Herbert Hunston enacts the role of Lord Edton, the part he played in the original stage production, and the balance of the cast includes such sterling players as Hedda Hopper, George K. Arthur, Cyril Chadwick, Moon Carroll, Maude Turner, Madeline Seymour and Finch Smith. All are deserving of special mention.

The plot is one of those amusing sidelights on smart society of the present day. It is packed with humor, of the more subtle kind, suspense, and a thoroughly surprising climax.

"THE SHOW BOAT"
"Show Boat," the super production now showing at Royal theater, adapted from the novel written by

Edna Ferber, covers a period of nearly 60 years dating from the early 1840s to the present time.

The changes in "popular songs" throughout the intervening decades makes an interesting study, as is disclosed in the telling of the screen story directed by Harry Pollard.

Laura La Plante and Joseph Schildkraut co-star in this picture and Opa Harlan, Emily Fitzroy, Alma Rubens, Jane LaVerne, Neely Edwards and others are in the cast. Helen Morgan, Jules Bledsoe and other Ziegfeld stars interpolate popular numbers and choruses from the Ziegfeld stage production of "Show Boat."

Fewer than ten per cent of the homes in Bulgaria are wired for electricity.

Eight Years of Neuritis Routed By New Konjola

Many Treatments and Medicines Failed to Remove Affliction; Entire Body Was Affected; Allment Now Banished

MR. JOSEPH BEDMARK

"I have been relieved of a very stubborn case of neuritis, and this new medicine, Konjola, gets all the credit," said Mr. Joseph Bedmark, O. S. S. Home, Sandusky. "For eight long years I suffered the ravages of this dread affliction. Only one who has, or had, it can imagine what I went through. At times I had to use crutches. I was discouraged and down-hearted.

In eight weeks Konjola made me feel like a different man. My whole system has been rejuvenated. Now I can climb four flights of stairs without the slightest pain. I threw the crutches away some time ago and have had no use for them since. I feel so much better it is hard for me to imagine what a poor condition I was in just a short time ago. I am willing to make an oath as to the truth of this statement, and I sincerely hope that others will profit by my happy experience."

Konjola is sold in Salem at all J. H. Lease drug stores, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Chugging Along..

Is your home operating on one cylinder?

Six and eight cylinders mean motor efficiency — electrical appliances mean household efficiency.

Automobiles and electricity have grown up together and spread over the country at an unprecedented pace. Each has contributed immeasurably to the progress and happiness of the nation.

The day of the one- and two-cylinder automobiles has passed, but there are many homes still "chugging along" without electrical appliances.

Modernize your home. Don't "chug along."
